HONEYWELL ENERGY SERVICES – CONTRACT HIGHLIGHTS

Honeywell offers Energy Savings Performance Contracts (ESPCs) to help organizations achieve energy and operational savings as well as support carbon reduction goals.

Working within an organization's existing cost structure, an ESPC funds itself from the savings achieved with guaranteed energy savings.

ESPCs begin with an energy audit of the entire building infrastructure as well as an energy supply analysis to get a clear picture of energy consumption, identify areas for improvement and calculate the carbon impact of a more efficient operation.

Honeywell has experience helping facilities managers all over the world make sustainability goals and infrastructure upgrades financially feasible. Honeywell has served building customers including schools, hospitals, laboratories, commercial & industrial, central utility plants and government entities.
